

Port commissioner charges deal in bond fund repayment

By ANITA DINWIDDIE

Hancock County Port and Harbor Commissioner A. G. Harris charged at a meeting Thursday that the commission was reneging on a deal made with the board of supervisors in March when it rescinded a motion to repay $50,000 to the Bond and Interest

Harris said that at a joint meeting in March the commission and the supervisors agreed that if the commission would pay $80,000 into the Bond and Interest Retirement Fund which was in financial trouble at the time, the

"We promised to pay that money to the Bond and Interest Fund as a compromise deal to get the supervisors to vote favorably on that bond issue, and everyone on this commission and

Director Wilson Webre objected to Harris' statements saying that the $3,000 was promised as a reward of

"At that time we thought that we owed the money to the fund, but a recent report by the auditors has shown that we already repaid the loan entirely," Webre said.

Engineer Frank Fromholz reported that repair of the drainage on the taxiway would cost an estimated $16,000. He suggested, however, that the commission and T. I. James agree to split the difference for the repairs because there is some evidence of failure in the drainage system before work began on the taxiway.

The commission approved an addendum in an option with Marine Concrete Structures to purchase lots 31 and 32 for the purpose of constructing an employee building. The additional purchase will increase the company's monthly lease from $1000 to $1200.

Library ground-breaking marks end of 41 years of planning

The climax of 41 years of planning was realized at 4 p.m. Sunday when the official ground-breaking ceremony for the new city-county public library was held at the library site next to Crosby Furniture on Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

Officials of the county and Bay St. Louis were present when the first shovelful of dirt was lifted by Mrs. Linda Haas, chairman of the Library Trustees. Officials present included State Senator Martin Smith, Hancock supervisors A.A. Kellar, Oscar Peterson and H. Billy Zengerting, and Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Gervay and commissioner Lucien Kidd.

Carl Cater, chosen patron of the year of the Waveland branch, represented Waveland in the ground-breaking.

Mrs. Haas gave a brief review of the library's 41 year history. She particularly recognized Miss Louise Crawford who began the first library 41 years ago with only 200 volumes, but soon built it to over 5000 volumes and

Hancock sheriff apprehends three

The Hancock County Sheriff's office apprehended three suspects Monday, July 14, in the recent burglaries of two Hancock County residences said Sheriff Sylvan Ladner.

Ladner said Bobby Edward Miller, 22, Bay St. Louis is being held in the Hancock County jail in lieu of $1000 bond. A second Bay St. Louis man Donald Jenkins, 26, is being held in Orleans Parish prison pending charges on a Louisiana burglary. A third suspect, Jenkin's wife, Sharel, 22, Bay St. Louis, was released by Hancock County authorities on $1000 bond.

Most of the stolen property from the home of Donald Marguar on Beach Boulevard in Waveland was recovered by the sheriff's office including a television set, a wrist watch and jewelry valued at $500.

Sharel Jenkins and another female have also been charged with the break-in of the home of Bruce McMahan in Waveland. A portable bar, four chairs and two bean bag chairs have been recovered Sheriff Ladner said.

Miller is also being held on a worthless check charge filed by the Bay St. Louis city police. A $5000 bond has been set.

A hearing for all three suspects is set for July 23.

Brothers sentenced to four years on stabbing charge

Two Louisiana youths were sentenced to four years in the state penitentiary by Circuit Judge Albert L. Johnson following a trial in the state court.

The youths, who were charged with a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, were originally charged with attempted murder.

Although the charge carries a maximum penalty of 10 years, the state recommended that the youths be sentenced to four years in view of their good record of only minor offenses.

Bicentennial News

By JOE PILET

The independence of the United States won by soldiers who fought the Revolutionary war is within every definition of the word "a miracle". General George Washington had a make-shift army -- poorly equipped, poorly clothed and poorly fed. Actually Washington didn't know from one day to the next how many fighting men were in his fighting forces. The regular Colonial Army never exceeded more than 5,000 to 6,000 men. True after events at Lexington and Concord up to 30,000 men volunteered for military duty. These men were known as "citizen soldiers", mostly farmers and members of state military units. They volunteered for a specified period of time then returned to their farms to plant or to harvest when their period of enlistment expired.

Washington, in an attempt to put together a regular well trained American military force, offered free land at the end of the war.

King George of England was not without his military problems. The British Army by standards of the time were considered a "formidable force", however more soldiers were needed.

King George hired 30,000 German soldiers and they were transported to the colonies. Most of these soldiers came from the German state of Hesse-Cassel, and were referred to as Hessians. Hessians were well disciplined and well drilled, however, they really didn't have much incentive to fight. Actually many deserted to the American side in order to qualify for free homestead lands. They became successful farmers and loyal Americans.

British leaders then sought to enlist Indian tribes to fight against the colonists. The Indian tribes were resentful and hated the colonies because they had invaded their hunting grounds. The British promised the hunting grounds would be returned should they win the war. Indians did a superb job of harassment, but as fighting men their tactics were to disappear into forest rather than engage in open combat.

How, other than a miracle, could untrained and outnumbered men win a war? Some say the victory was brought about by a series of lucky breaks. Some say the war was won by British blunders. Could it be the Revolutionary War was won because man is born to be free?

Bygone Days

5 YEARS AGO

July 16, 1970 --

Plans are in the making for Waveland to get a 12 classroom school building complex with a teachers' lounge, modern kitchen and cafeteria, library and administrative suite, according to Robert Hamilton, president of the board of the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School District, following a Monday night meeting of that group.

Funds in the total amount of $483,000 have come in, reported J. D. McCulloch, superintendent of city schools, and he explained:

"The site on which the building is to be constructed is approximately 12 acres of land in Waveland on Saint Joseph St. We were lucky in getting through the GEC a direct grant in the amount of $245,000 to add to funds on hand which includes $75,000 in insurance money, $50,000 from the McCulloch Care Fund, $113,000 from the Educational Finance Commission."

10 YEARS AGO

July 15, 1965 --

"If we don't spend money for improvements and take advantage of the influx brought about by MTP, we'll not only lose potential industries but also new residents," said Mayor John Scalfie addressing city, county and civic officials on Wednesday, meeting to discuss the necessity of building a new airport.

The group discounted the possibilities offered either by extending the present facilities or constructing a new strip on Jackson Ridge.

50 YEARS AGO

July 13, 1945 --

Mrs. W. A. McDonald entertained informally at a luncheon at Hotel Reed honoring Mrs. Andrew Allison. Her guests were limited mostly to old friends of Mrs. Allison.

Mrs. Allison, who with her husband, Rev. Andrew Allison, is here waiting such time as they can go back to China where they have been missionaries 33 years, and to Mrs. Allison these are her people and she wants to go back to them for the remaining years of her life.

50 YEARS AGO

July 18, 1925 --

Saturday's special municipal election to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Mayor R. W. Webb, resulted in the election of G. T. Blake, attorney from Ward Three, who it will be seen, carried all the votes.

Colling's Corner

By B.S. Colling

It's 1975, the 100th anniversary of the year 1875 already almost 100 years of life already over and now 1975! Personally, we don't know if there hasn't been time enough for all the things to happen that have happened!

Do you remember the Spanish-American war? That was three-quarters of a century ago, but we can still see the soldiers marching down the avenue in Pittsburg in a summer morning, while the band played "Wait till the sun shines, Nellie". Later we saw some of these same soldiers in the headlines of a newspaper camp at Monte Pelic, P.I., receiving their "reward" for a service well done. And do you remember the first motion picture, a one-reeler called "The Great Train Robbery"? We saw it still see the man running along the top of a moving train, that was when "cinema" or "talkies" were being taken into "theaters"; years later we saw some of these same "cinema" men still operating, hard seats and all, in Sydney, Australia.

In 1934, at the World's Fair in New York, we staged the first public demonstration of television, and we saw the first "talkies" being shown on the screen. That was 40 years ago, yet when we saw her in a recent commercial Dinah was as buoyant and lovely as she was in her teens when we first knew her. And then there was Shirley Temple, confident Shirley Temple. Can it be possible that the little bundle of energy is nearing fifty? Where has the time gone?

"Hushie, hushie!" Maybe Julius Caesar was luckier than he thought, shuffling off this mortal coil at the height of success, spared of the regrets and might-have-beens that come with age. Yet young folks would not agree, the future spreads calm and fair before them, and hope springs eternal in the human breast. So, let us then be up and doing; sunset -- we'll worry about that when it comes.

We once knew well the world's top high-wire artist, and watched time after time as he rode his bicycle, with eight or nine people clinging to him and making a pyramid on his shoulders, along a rope stretched 40 feet above the ground. Years later, and after two frightful accidents, we asked him why he didn't write his autobiography, and he replied, "I will the day after I can't get up on the wire any more."

Which has always struck us as being the most unoriginal answer possible under the circumstances!

Veterans Information

The Veterans Administration (VA) is the result of a long and arduous process. It was created in 1945, after World War II, to provide benefits and services to the men and women who served in the armed forces of the United States.

The VA is a federal agency that is part of the Department of Veterans Affairs. It is responsible for providing a wide range of benefits and services to veterans and their families, including medical care, education, and financial assistance.

The VA is a large and complex organization, with many different departments and offices. It is one of the largest federal agencies in the United States, with a budget of over $100 billion.

The VA is a proud and honored organization, and it is a privilege to serve the men and women who have served our country. We are committed to providing the best possible care and support to our veterans and their families.

discharge decision, the first step by the VA following receipt of a claim for benefits, is to obtain from the Service Department all of the records pertinent to the discharge action. Loosely interpreted, the VA regulations state that if the records show the veteran was guilty of both willful and persistent misconduct, which resulted in the bad discharge, he is not eligible for VA benefits. This can mean that if a veteran was discharged for a series of two or more infractions or deeds of misconduct, the VA stands against him. On the other hand, if he or she was given a bad discharge because of one single deed, it could not be found in the personnel file, even though it might have been.

It is here where a decision is made as to whether or not the veteran is eligible for VA benefits. If the decision is "no", the veteran will be notified of the decision and the reasons therefor. If the decision is "yes", the veteran will be notified of the decision and the reasons therefor.

The VA is a proud and honored organization, and it is a privilege to serve the men and women who have served our country. We are committed to providing the best possible care and support to our veterans and their families.

Washington Report

PROBING THE CIA

Congresswoman Bella Abzug of New York and her Government Information and Individual Rights Subcommittee had CIA Director William Colby on the grill recently, blistering him with a series of accusations and denunciations.

Bella and her bunch wanted Colby's hide. The CIA, they contended, had let its secret operations get out of hand and -- even worse -- wouldn't talk about its secrets with Members of Congress.

"Madame, I am trying to run a secret intelligence service," Colby replied. "The essential secrets of the intelligence trade must be protected." That, essentially, is what my mind keeps coming back to as I try to evaluate the CIA and its secret operations. An intelligence secret kept a secret if it is headlined on the front page of every newspaper in the nation.

I agree with many of my colleagues in the House that there appear to have been some abuses under the original CIA charter, which limits the CIA to INTERNATIONAL activities. I am concerned, however, that the current wave of congressional investigations might do some irreparable damage to our intelligence system.

And at a time when every nation in the world of the earth conducts intelligence activities, I don't think the United States should allow its intelligence agency to be subjected to death.

I do think the CIA -- like any other federal agency -- should be subject to some kind of oversight. We've learned too many painful lessons in recent years to allow any government agency to go completely unchecked.

But I do not think a super-sensitive agency like the CIA should be required to submit to congressional harassment spawned by internal bickering and politics. If that happens, we might as well give the rest of the world the keys to the White House.

Internal bickering and politics? You bet. Right here at this moment in the U. S. House of Representatives.

The House Rules Committee, for example, finally had enough of the House Select Committee on Intelligence and passed a resolution to abolish it. The Intelligence Committee -- which is also loaded with liberals -- fought vigorously to maintain its credentials.

I voted for the resolution, which would abolish the present 10-member panel and establish a new 12-member group. The present makeup of the Intelligence Committee has produced nothing but a stalemate, which has produced nothing but hard feelings.

The Intelligence Committee is not the only one looking into the CIA's problems. The Armed Services Committee and the Government Operations Committee also claim jurisdiction -- and that's just on the House side. The Senate has its own Select Intelligence Committee operating at full steam.

It's time for Congress to come up with a coordinated plan to evaluate the CIA. Therefore, I will probably vote on the House floor to re-establish a special committee to look into some of the allegations raised in recent months about the CIA.

Whatever the ultimate course of action, however, I plan to insist that Congress refrain from destroying our nation's intelligence community.

REMOVAL OF MILDEW

Many homeowners have recently been told that the best way to remove mildew is to use a strong bleach solution.

Mildew is caused by a type of mold that is always present in the air. It will grow in areas that are damp, warm and poorly aired or lighted.

The bathroom is an area where the mildew problem is most prevalent. It is caused by the warm, moist air that is trapped in the room.

To remove mildew from the bathroom, first remove the mildew from the walls and ceiling with a strong bleach solution. Then, scrub the tiles and grout with a toothbrush.

your shower tile, make a thick paste about the consistency of tooth paste with household bleach and baking soda. Apply the paste and scrub with a toothbrush. Rinse with clear water and wipe dry.

RECIPE FOR "PRESERVED" CHILDREN

Take two large bowls. Fill one with water and the other with vinegar.

A plastic bucket and some paper towels. Mix the water and vinegar in the bucket. Dip the paper towels in the mixture and place them over the bowls.

Place the bowls in a warm, dry place. The vinegar will preserve the children for a long time.

FROM 1975, CONTRADICT EACH OTHER. LIKE ALL OF HIS PROMISES, THEY JUST DON'T ADD UP.

My opponent just doesn't make any sense! The two ads reproduced on this page are a good example. One ad, from his UNSUCCESSFUL 1971 campaign for beat supervisor, and another from his present MISLEADING campaign, contradict each other. Like all of his promises, they just don't add up.

Compare 1971 AD where my opponent bragged about 30 miles of gravel and shell roads with his 1975 AD. Now my opponent proudly proclaims that he shelled 20 miles of shell and gravel roads. IN 1971, my opponent claimed to have blacktopped 14 MILES of road. NOW, he tells us it is 21 miles.

Who does my opponent think he is fooling! In 1975, half-truths and misleading claims do not sell. The people want honest candidates to restore their faith in government.

Jerry Ladner asks the people of Beat One in Hancock County to compare his open record for the past 3 1/2 years with that of his opponent's term in office. Jerry Ladner stands by his record as supervisor. It's the truth! That's a fact.

Jerry Ladner believes that a supervisor owes an obligation to the people to tell the truth. Jerry Ladner tells it like it is. A vote for Jerry Ladner is a vote for the people of Beat One of Hancock County.

When Jerry Ladner makes a promise, he produces. Jerry Ladner makes no bogus claims or promises. Residents of Beat One who moved out of the Buffer Zone in 1963-1964 ARE STILL WAITING for MY OPPONENT to make good his promises to pave their roads... roads whose cost was paid for at the time by the Federal Government!

Jerry Ladner runs on his record. In 1971, Jerry Ladner asked the people of Hancock County to elect him as supervisor. In his Campaign, Jerry Ladner promised to work for better government, more roads and more jobs. Look at the record of Jerry Ladner's past 3 1/2 years in office with that of his opponent's six years in office.

Jerry Ladner's 23 miles of paved roads are of record. His 60 miles of shelled roads are of record. His help in providing 450 jobs in industry for Hancock County people is of record. His efforts to provide better county government for the people of Hancock County is of record. AND THAT'S THE TRUTH. THAT'S A FACT.

JERRY LADNER TELLS IT LIKE IT IS!

LOOK AT JERRY LADNER'S RECORD AS SUPERVISOR IN BEAT 1:

DURING HIS FIRST TERM IN OFFICE, JERRY LADNER WILL HAVE:

LB school budget shows $200,000 increase

By BOB INNES
Long Beach Bureau

The Long Beach School board at their last meeting voted to approve a $2.5 million budget for the 1972-73 school year. This year's budget is an increase of $200,000 over last year's budget of $2.3 million.

The approval of the budget came despite objections by one board member that too little money is budgeted for instructional needs.

Mrs. Georgia Pepper told the school board that only $188 was requested by junior and senior high mathematics instructors for additional supplies while the band had budgeted $10,171.

Home economics is to receive $1,200 in the coming year while the board denied a request for $1,819 from the science department.

Long Beach Superintendent Thomas L. Reeves said he didn't cut the mathematics, biology, or physics budgets, but the reason for cutting the science budget was that there was no way they can utilize that much new equipment in the new school year.

Mrs. Pepper filed another complaint that janitors were leaving because they didn't have enough to eat. The board agreed to meet at a later date with individuals principals to study janitorial duties.

The new school budget includes $9,000 for teachers and instructional supplies to operate a learning disability class at the junior and senior highs and the Jeff Davis Elementary School.

In other action the board agreed to advertise bids for an air conditioner for the senior high band hall. Band Director Richard Smith, members of the music department and band students' parents asked permission to cool the building which has few windows because of the acoustical design.

The petitioners requested that the school board install the air conditioner and that the music department and band fund the project with monies earned from fund raising projects.

In advertising for bids the board agreed a payment plan would be worked out at a later time to the board's satisfaction.

The school board approved the employment of Mrs. Cynthia Smith, junior high English; Sheldon Combeaux, junior high science; Charles Lembright, drama; and Betty Wellford, annual sponsor.

Veterans eligible for back pay

More than one million dollars in back pay is awaiting nearly 60,000 Army reservists and National Guardsmen who cannot be reached by the Department of the Army, according to Chester L. Curvey, Veterans Service Officer for Hancock County.

This back pay is the result of an increase in military pay which was to be effective October 1, 1972. The increase was not paid because of the President's wage and price freeze which went into force August 15, 1972. A recent court decision ruled the pay increase be paid to each reservist and guardsman who was a member and entitled to pay during the months of October, November, and December, 1972.

U. S. Army officials report that the former reservists and guardsmen earned the money for drills and training attended during the October 1 through December 31, 1972 period. The records show that only about 1,000 of those eligible have applied for their back pay.

The payments range from $10 to $240, depending upon rank and pay grade, and Army officials are anxious to mail the checks for back pay, Curvey said. Former reservists and guardsmen who trained during that 1972 period can write to the Army area in which their old unit is located.

Municipal school budget approved

The Bay St. Louis City Council gave unanimous approval Friday to the $1,443,537 budget for the 1974-75 term of the Bay-Waveland school district.

The budget reduces the amount of ad valorem taxes required from the city to $428,984, a reduction of approximately $72,000 from last year. The tax is based on last year's assessment value of $24,585,127.

Although no objections were raised against the budget itself, Bay St. Louis Mayor Warren Carver did express dissatisfaction with the amount of time the council was given to study the budget.

"I have no quarrel with any of the expenditures in the budget," Carver said. "But any budget could be cut, and I would have liked to have had more time to study it before making a decision."

The council members and Waveland Mayor John Longo received copies of the budget last Monday night at a meeting of the school board.

"We are still uncertain so far as the ad valorem taxes are concerned," Carver said. "I believe that the assessment will be higher this year and I think it is unfair to tax the people as much based on last year's assessment when it might have been lowered if we had had more time to study the matter."

Other commissioners Lucien Kidd and Clarence Ladner pointed out the possibility of decrease in the collection of other taxes which would offset a higher assessment, and also pointed out the need to approve the budget before the July 15 deadline.

In other business the council accepted a bid from Mor-Flo Industries, Inc. of Johnson City, Tennessee of $7500 for a gas fired radiant tube furnace located in the Alcan Plant on Central Ave. in Bay St. Louis.

Waller's host Mansion open house July 19

Governor and Mrs. Bill Waller will host the first open house at the Governor's Mansion in the history of the state Saturday, July 19.

"We feel that the Mansion is the property of all the people of Mississippi, and we want to give everyone an opportunity to visit and see why the Department of Interior has designated the Mansion's National Historical Landmark," the Governor said.

A time has been designated for each county to visit the facility "in an effort to insure that everyone won't arrive at the same time and produce long lines," he said.

Minorities hold trade fair

The Mississippi Office of Minority Business Enterprise, a division of the Agricultural and Industrial Board, is sponsoring a Trade Fair in Jackson this week "in an effort to develop new opportunities for minority and small businesses in Mississippi."

Tom Espy, Director of the agency, said "MISSISSIPPI EXPO '75 is designed to bring together the purchasing officers for various agencies and businesses and small and minority businessmen in an effort to increase the participation of these small, independently-owned businesses in the transactions of these organizations."

Espy noted that Governor Waller has issued an Executive Order calling on state agencies to purchase a fair proportion of goods and services from small, independently-owned and operated businesses within the state.

Espy said that Texas Congresswoman Barbara Jordan and Governor Waller would be among the many dignitaries to attend the Trade Fair.

State park planned for Jackson area

Larry Broadhead, Chairman of the Mississippi Park Commission, has announced that planning efforts are underway for the development of a major state park to be located in the Jackson area. He said a special committee is presently working on possible themes for the park.

"According to a Mississippi R & D study, approximately 14 percent of the total state population live in the greater Jackson area," Broadhead said. "However, at this time, we do not have sufficient funds to develop a bona fide state park in the Jackson area featuring a total complement of facilities generally found in other state parks. We have only $1.1 million available with which to develop a state park in this area."

"In consideration of the two major obstacles—lack of a sizable tract of land plus a shortage of funds for extensive park development—the Park Board feels that major emphasis should be given to the development of a park with one basic theme."

Broadhead said that studies being reviewed by the Park Board indicate that an ideal theme for a Central Mississippi park would best be met in the popular sport of tennis.

"Here in Central Mississippi we have noticed interest in tennis is now greater than present facilities can accommodate, and we feel that the development of a park to meet these needs would greatly enhance the recreational opportunities in the area," Broadhead said. Broadhead emphasized, however, that no final decision has been made on a theme for the park and that the Park Commission is soliciting public comments and alternate theme suggestions.

State reports physician increase

Mississippi reported in 1974 the largest yearly gain and highest total number of physicians ever recorded, according to a report prepared by the Mississippi State Board of Health Statistical Services Unit. The new increase in physicians from January 1, 1974 to January 1, 1975 was 154.

The report was prepared from information obtained from the Bureau of Licensure and Certification, State Board of Health, and the Mississippi State Medical Association. Similar reports have been produced semi-annually since 1947.

Joyce Shuford, Coordinator of the Governor's Hotline, said that use of the toll-free telephone information and referral service reached an all-time high this week.

Mrs. Shuford said that her staff is now receiving an average of 70 calls per day, nearly 20 calls per day more than the previous average.

Pass resident arrested for assault on officer

By BOB INNES

Pass Christian Police Sunday arrested Doyle Moffett, 40, executive director of the Harrison County Community Action Agency on charges of simple assault on a police officer, resisting arrest and carrying a concealed weapon.

Moffett's arrest resulted apparently following a domestic quarrel.

Pass Police Chief Ed Alley, Jr. said that police were called to investigate a disturbance at the residence of Mrs. Gergette Hawthorne, 333 Hunter Ave., about 6:20 p.m. Mrs. Hawthorne reported that she asked police to remove Moffett from her house.

Moffett reportedly said he would leave if he got his gun back from someone in the house. Patrolman Victor Jerome got the gun, unloaded it and gave it back to Moffett. Reportedly Moffett then headed for his car but was later seen heading back to the house while in the process of reloading his pistol, Alley said.

Upon arrival, Detective Bill Markopoulos seized Moffett's pistol from him inside the house and ordered Moffett placed under arrest, according to Alley.

Moffett allegedly resisted arrest while Jerome was frisking him and a scuffle resulted. Moffett was subdued with mace by Markopoulos and arrested on the three charges.

Moffett was booked at Harrison County Jail on $1,000 bond and released on his own recognizance by the authority of Pass Mayor Steve Sauder.

VOTE FOR HARLAN G. DEAN SUPERVISOR DISTRICT 1 HANCOCK COUNTY

In the ad of Mr. Jerry Ladner, dated July 10, 1975, he stated he was against spending taxpayers money for the benefit of private subdivision developers. It has been alleged that the shells he hauled went into a private subdivision belonging to one family. I would like for him to show me the minutes of the Board of Supervisors where this subdivision road had been accepted by the County Supervisors. If so, I could not find them in the minutes of the Board. He also stated that after the county accepted the sub-standard roads in Bayside Park over his objections, he moved to correct the situation. Whether he did or did not, I don't see much improvement in that area. I do know that one of the owner's equipment is doing the grading of roads in the Bayside Park area at the present time.

Another thing he brought out in his ad was the honest efficiency and progress. If he was honest, he wouldn't have to tell the voters - they would know. As for efficiency, I see the roads and equipment he has is substandard to that of other beats. And as for progress, I would like for him to prove to me the progress he has made in the last three and one-half years. The last elected supervisor was elected in 1972, and I am sure that he had some progress to show. I am sure that he had some progress to show. I am sure that he had some progress to show.

The above information was obtained from the minutes of the Board of Supervisors, District 1, Hancock County, Mississippi, dated July 10, 1975.

Long Beach council considers retirement plan

By BOB INNES
Long Beach Bureau

The Long Beach City Council Tuesday heard another retirement plan for city employees in the board's attempt to initiate a retirement plan for all city employees. George Nash, of the Public Employee Retirement Service of Mississippi told the board of two possible actions they could take.

Under a non-retroactive plan the program would start at a set date agreed upon by the city. Nash said there would be no outlay of money and service prior to that fixed date.

The second course is retroactive and credit for service dates back to the earliest employment. However, Nash explained, although the employer and employee would pay a certain percentage there would be a 25 percent interest charge. The company would have invested the money from that earliest employment and be expected to earn at least 5.5 percent.

The plan also has "years of service benefits," Nash explained.

After 30 years of service "no matter what the employee age he or she will receive full retirement," Nash said. Nash explained that there is no way "you can lose money because no matter what the circumstance you can come up with you get back every penny you put into it."

In other business the board declared July 15 as Andy Lacy day. Mayor Sam Maxwell presented Mrs. Carol Guilford, Lacy's sister, the key to the city of Long Beach and a proclamation. Lacy could not be present due to prior commitments.

Maxwell said that Lacy who was promoted to Brigadier General in the USAF in July has been decorated 19 times in 25 years of service. Lacy was born and reared in Long Beach.

Headstart workers prepare for two-year program

Over fifty parents and representatives of Headstart programs in three counties, including Hancock County, are taking part in a special three-day training seminar to help assess the impact of the program in their area. The three-day seminar at Ramada Inn in Waveland marks the beginning of a two-year model program in this area that is aimed at making the Headstart programs more efficient.

The three counties - Hancock, Pearl River, and Perry - belong to the Mississippi Action Progress, Inc. (MAP), which was recently appointed as one of three Super Grantees in the nation that will receive extra funding to evaluate their programs. The other two Super Grantee appointments are Chicago and New York City.

The results of the Super Grantee program, said MAP executive director Morris Lewis, will be monitored by the Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare Department. "We're a model program," Lewis said. "The results of our program will influence other programs. It's an experiment," he added. "It's designed to improve the Headstart program's management and services. We want to see what impact Headstart has had on the area and what can be changed to make it more effective and responsive to the community's needs."

The Super Grantee program is set for three phases: (1) the assessment of the present program, (2) the planning of the improvements, and (3) the implementation of the changes. The first phase of the program should be completed by December, and the whole program implemented by the Fall of 1977. The three-day training seminar, which starts the program in motion for this area, will educate the parents and representatives of the Headstart Centers in the six aspects that will be evaluated during the assessment phase. Those six areas that will be evaluated are as follows: administration, nutrition, education, social services, health, and parent involvement.

Referring to the interest the program has generated, Lewis said, "The people here are very enthusiastic. We're looking forward to the effort, and we anticipate great results and a great impact."

Hancock County, as well as Pearl River and Perry Counties, belongs to Area 1 of MAP and is under the directorship of Edward Stubbs of Picayune. The three Headstart programs which service 198 children in Hancock County are the Bay Waveland Center at St. Rose de Lima School, the St. Joseph Center in Pearl River, and the Catalina Center in the northern part of the county.

The Tuskegee Institute Leadership Program and the Mississippi Training and Coordinating Council are providing their services at the three-day meeting throughout the state.

Also present at the seminars is a regional representative from Atlanta, Reginald Dancil, who said that MAP was granted the "Super Grantee" status because it services over 5,000 children and receives over $5 million in funds.

Retail merchants hold state convention

The Mississippi Retail Merchants Association will convene its three-day Nineteenth Annual Convention Sunday, July 27, at the Broadwater Beach Hotel in Biloxi.

The convention theme is "Preserve the Republic and Free Enterprise," in keeping with the nation's Bicentennial Celebration.

Dick Kmetz, Biloxi, president of the Association, said the program includes a state of speakers for the business sessions, plus special activities and entertainment for the entire family.

Elmo S. Koschel, General Marketing Supervisor, South Central Bell Telephone Company, New Orleans, will entertain convention delegates Monday morning during the President's Breakfast with a talk on "What am I, A Sane Man, Doing in This Crazy World."

The business session Monday morning will feature Howard M. Evans, Vice President and Director of Marketing, J. C. Penney Company, New York, who will speak on "The Changing Consumer: Problem or Profit."

Also featured on the Monday morning business session will be the Honorable A. F.

The three Headstart programs which service 198 children in Hancock County are the Bay Waveland Center at St. Rose de Lima School, the St. Joseph Center in Pearl River, and the Catalina Center in the northern part of the county.

The Tuskegee Institute Leadership Program and the Mississippi Training and Coordinating Council are providing their services at the three-day meeting throughout the state.

Also present at the seminars is a regional representative from Atlanta, Reginald Dancil, who said that MAP was granted the "Super Grantee" status because it services over 5,000 children and receives over $5 million in funds.

The convention will adjourn Tuesday at noon with a Board of Directors luncheon meeting.

Steelers trim Bay in season's showcase

By DAVID HIRSHEN

Bay St. Louis and the Steelers played a showcase game in the season's first two innings, with Pass Christian leading 2-0. The game was tied 2-2 in the fifth inning after starting Steeler pitcher Myron Cook walked the first three batters he faced and was relieved by Aaron "Chief" Swannier.

Swannier walked home one of the runs, and another scored on a long sacrifice fly to center off the bat of Vernon Powell. In the sixth, Bay St. Louis tied the game and had chances to take the lead when Bill Ginn doubled to center, scoring one run and putting runners on second and third. But one runner was thrown out at the plate trying to score on a ground ball, and Ricky Geoffrey ended the inning by flying out to left.

The 13-year-olds will play their first all-star game July 23 in Bay St. Louis. On the 14- and 15-year-old Babe Ruth All-Star team are:

J. Bowser; and from Gladrich's, Lonnie Jenkins, Grant LaCoste and Jerry Winstead. Alternate is Rolfe Zander of Timber Ridge.

The team will play its first game in Hernando, Mississippi, Monday, July 21. Local men's and women's softball teams will play a benefit tournament for the Bay St. Louis Little League July 18-20 at Commagere Park in Bay St. Louis.

Softball tourney set

Eight local men's teams will begin a double elimination tournament at noon Saturday, July 19. First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in the contest. Four women's teams will play a round-robin tournament beginning at 7 p.m. Friday, July 18. First and second place trophies will be awarded.

Brackets for the four tournaments will be drawn up at a later date. Refreshments will be served at the games.

ball went into the outfield, and two more runs scored to give the Steelers a 4-2 edge.

Diamondhead got two of the runs back in the fifth inning after starting Steeler pitcher Myron Cook walked the first three batters he faced and was relieved by Aaron "Chief" Swannier.

Swannier walked home one of the runs, and another scored on a long sacrifice fly to center off the bat of Vernon Powell. In the sixth, Bay St. Louis tied the game and had chances to take the lead when Bill Ginn doubled to center, scoring one run and putting runners on second and third. But one runner was thrown out at the plate trying to score on a ground ball, and Ricky Geoffrey ended the inning by flying out to left.

Pass Christian jumped on Tim Favre for three runs in the seventh, after Mark Jenkins led off with a single to center and brother Perry Jenkins drew a base on balls and both advanced on a wild pitch. Cook drove home one run with a sacrifice to center, and Stewart followed with his run-scoring double to right.

Aaron Swannier delivered a single to give the Steelers an 8-5 edge. Bay St. Louis rallied, with one down in the seventh when Arnold Fairconnetus singled home one run and put runners at the corners. Then with two out, Fairconnetus stole second, putting the tying run in scoring position, but Ricky Adams ended the game with a soft ground ball to the pitcher.

Besides Stewart who garnered two doubles, Vic Swannier and Mark Jenkins gathered two hits for the winners. Randy Krankey was the only hitter to get two hits in the game for Bay St. Louis.

Aaron Swannier was the winning pitcher, working three innings of relief, giving up two runs, four hits, three walks, while striking out one. Cook allowed nine bases on balls in the four innings he pitched for Pass Christian.

Tim Favre went the route for the Diamondhead nine, walking just one and striking out two.

NOTICE!

Dear Patients:

You are probably aware that there is an increasing national tendency for men in their fifties to change or alter their professions or jobs. It is my opinion that this probably has more to do with hormonal influences than socio-economic reasons. Regardless of the reason, I have now become one of these individuals.

For nearly three years I have been responsible for providing professional "Doctor coverage" for the Emergency Department at Gulfport Memorial Hospital. It has been my responsibility to provide competent Physician coverage for the Emergency Department on a twenty-four hour a day basis. During this period I have carried out this obligation and tried to the best of my ability to continue a part time practice here in Hancock County. Frankly, it has been a troublesome, frustrating, tiring responsibility and more than I can continue to handle. It seems to me that now during my middle years of medical practice it would be more appropriate to limit my practice fields and specialize my work.

The number of patients utilizing the Emergency Department has increased by approximately 100 percent during this three year period and, if we follow the national trend, we expect the number of patients seen in the Emergency Department to continue increasing at a rate of approximately 20-25 percent each year. This increase is due to a variety of reasons. The mal-distribution of Physicians is an important reason. The difficulty for patients to see a Physician when they feel they need one is another important reason. Various insurance programs, governmental programs, and the patients' knowledge that they can be seen rather promptly by an experienced emergency-oriented Physician who has the availability of specialized consultants if needed, all contribute. All of these reasons and others contribute to the growing use of Emergency Departments on a local and national basis.

As a result of this ever increasing work load, I will terminate my practice of medicine in Bay St. Louis, August 1st, 1975. My office will remain open for an extended period of time so that I can thoroughly complete all necessary correspondence, essential insurance matters and the handling of patients' records, etc. For any related information please phone my office after 10 a.m. each week day. I will be most happy to assist you any way I possibly can.

During the twenty one years I have been in practice I have had only eight employees and to each of them I sincerely say "thank you". Each of you were more than employees, you were more like loved members of my family. I will always be dedicated to Mrs. Mary Ellen Ladner and Mrs. Marie North. They are absolutely tops in my book as individuals as well as para-medical personnel. They are extremely astute in their fields of work, are dedicated, reliable ladies, and have a great knowledge of the people of Hancock County. They made my endeavors so easy to perform and I sincerely thank them.

Based upon what I hear around town, it is my understanding that before long there will be additional Physicians establishing practices in Bay St. Louis. There should be no difficulty for my patients to obtain a new regular Physician to care for them. This town is blessed with an abundance of Doctors compared to most towns of comparable size, and they are all competent Physicians. I do not hesitate recommending all of them to you and will be happy to communicate your past history to the one of your choice. Please inform me of your wishes.

Often what you did not do is more interesting than what you did and being charmed by this sort of philosophy, I totaled my past due accounts. Originally I had planned to total the entire 21 years but this was taking too much time and I was getting sick by the minute so we only totaled the last 7 years' accounts. Now remember, I was only practicing part time for 3 of these 7 years. Anyway, my unpaid charge accounts for the last 7 years is $173,545.67. If you interpolate that figure over a 21 year period instead of the 7 years (the charge business has always been about the same or maybe better during the last 7 years due to Medicare and Medicaid), the figure approximates in excess of $630,000.00 of unpaid accounts. This certainly represents a tremendous amount of work when you consider this total represents small general practice fees.

In my opinion Bay St. Louis is a most unique little community and I love it. For this reason, and because the people have been so considerate and kind to me, I will consider these past due accounts as a donation to the well being of the community. This donation, believe me, represents more than merely my services. In my opinion, it represents a large part of my life and for your sake, I am donating it to you. I am not asking you to pay me back, but I am asking you to pay it to the community. I am not asking you to pay it to the community, but I am asking you to pay it to the community.

Ballplayers should not worry about personal goals

The main thing is for players to give themselves up and not worry about personal goals. Braves third baseman Darrell Evans says about building a winning ballclub in Atlanta.

"Two years ago, I had a great season personally. I hit 41 homers, but we didn't win," he continued. "Hitting homers is fine, but you win by playing the whole game. That's real baseball."

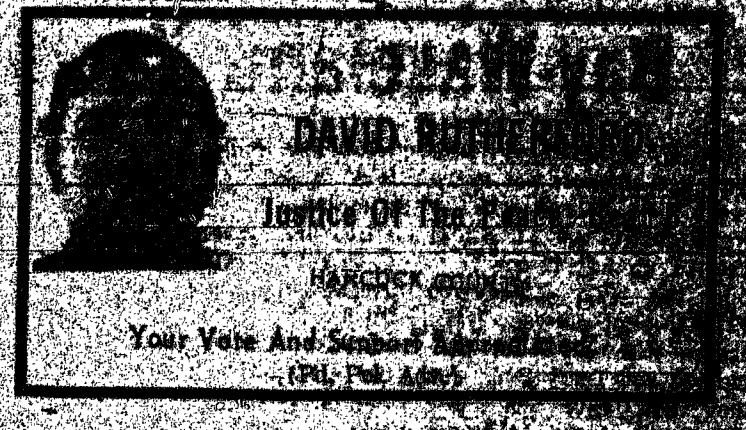

It just showed what we can do. Everyone pitched in. Everyone was willing to give himself up to let us win. That's why I don't like to set any goals for myself," he continued. "Sometimes you might set a goal for yourself and then, when you're not going to make it, you start breaking the personal goal because it's more important than the club winning. It isn't right."

Evans in 1976 is not having one of the outstanding years of his career. However, he has continued to show his desire to help his team at all costs. His defense at third base has been the best in the big leagues, and that's another story. "People were always saying there had to be a place in the lineup for me because I could hit," he noted. "They never said anything other than I couldn't play defense."

So Evans went about his work and built himself into a picture book fielder. The 6-8, 265 pound third baseman is going to be more important than ever now with the Braves. With Hank Aaron gone, he has stepped forth as the team leader. His leadership will hopefully be key to the Braves building a pennant contender for Atlanta.

Redden Brewer who died recently. Redden was one of our best local fishermen and hunters. He will be missed by his fishing buddies.

Louis (Dutch) Jacquillard and wife are both ardent fishermen. Has a nice boat and fishes mostly out in the marsh. Reported catching both speckles and reds the last time out. He shares his boat with his friends.

Harlan Watkins keeps us posted on what the fish are doing down Bayou Cadet way. Says they are mostly catching school trout in the morning when the tide is rising. He goes almost everyday.

Arthur and Mildred Schwall spent the weekend with Earl and Nell Oliver. Went fishing. Haven't heard what they got. You can bet they caught some.

When fishing for perch and bass with a perch pole, it is best to rig your line the full length of the pole. The reason is when you hook the fish and bring it in it will be right at your hand. No fumbling or fuming.

Louisiana's restocked brown pelican population has declined drastically in May and June, according to J. Burton Angelle, director of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

Angelle said that laboratory reports indicate that pesticides are the probable cause of the die-off.

"It looks like we are down to 100 birds from a restocked population of more than 450," Angelle said. "Chemical analyses indicate the presence of at least eight pesticides or pesticide residues in the brain tissue of the dead birds."

Remember back when each pier post held a pelican, especially down Waveland way?

Sportsman of the week - Alfred P. Roehn is 47 years young and has been fishing for almost that many years. He's one sportsman who will go fishing any time.

The Bay St. Louis Babe Ruth Player of the Week is Huewitt Parsons of the Hancock Supply Team coached by Leon Favre. In two games this week, Parsons managed perfect games against the Coast Electric team. He went three for three in one game and in the second game against the Electricians, he smashed a pair of doubles. Parsons has been an excellent performer all season for his team and has played a steady shortstop position. Players receiving honorable mention this week are Dwayne LaFontaine and John Kersanac of Coast Electric. Greg Hudson of the Rotary Club, Tony Raboureau and Greg Hammer of the American Legion team and Bruce Morreale and Ricky Manieri of Dixie Realty.

Three win high point honors at show

Three Hancock County Riding Club members won high-point honors at the South Mississippi Horse Show and Rodeo Association point competition at Lyman July 13. Six clubs were represented in the competition, and over 400 entries competed in the 24 events, which included pleasure performance events, timed events, and halter events. Edwin Ladner of Necaise Crossing won the men's division, Chip Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Lee, of Leetown, won the 12-and-under youth division, and Becky Favre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marty Favre of north Hancock County, won the high point trophy in the pony division. The Hancock County Riding Club's dominance in the youth events was evidenced by the fact that all five winners in the western pleasure event in the 12-and-under class came from the Hancock club.

Cancer Society names Morreale local chairman

Martin Morreale of Bay St. Louis has been named chairman of the Hancock County American Cancer Society's 1975 crusade which will be held locally the week July 21-25.

Members of NAPNES, district 19, at Hancock General Hospital, directed by president Margaret Harris, will be working with Morreale on the campaign. Mrs. Harris is being assisted by Mrs. Eula Stephens.

Morreale, whose appointment was announced Tuesday by area representative of the Cancer Society, Mrs. Mona Santiago, said this year's drive would be an educational as well as fund-raising drive.

Approximately 50 volunteers will visit local homes and businesses to raise money for the national organization and to distribute this year's crusade leaflet containing a cancer quiz, testing the public's awareness of ways to protect themselves against cancer. The theme of the 1975 campaign is "We want to live out cancer in your lifetime." Mrs. Harris said the volunteers raising the most money in the campaign would be recognized at a party given by NAPNES at the end of the week. Money collected by the fund will be distributed by the National Cancer Society with 20 percent going to research, 17.2 percent to public education, 10 percent to cancer control, and 4.8 percent to cancer research.

Belhaven sponsors state women's day

A bicentennial theme and a series of workshops will highlight the third annual Mississippi Women's Day to be held Saturday, August 2 in the Fine Arts Auditorium, Belhaven College.

Speakers at the symposium will include Dr. Anne Taylor, former president of Sweet Briar College, on "The Role of Women in the Emerging American Dream," Judge Lucy Howarth of Cleveland on "Early Women in Mississippi Government," Miss Eudora Welty reading from her writings, and a report from the 1975 International Women's Year Conference. Twelve mini-workshops will cover various aspects of the topic, "Women Reaching for Potential."

The 1975 Women's Day will be sponsored by the American Association of University Women, the League of Women Voters, the Mississippi Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, the National Council of Negro Women, the National Organization for Women, and the Y.W.C.A.

Advance reservations for the program and the luncheon should be mailed to the program coordinator, Mrs. Henry P. Mills, 1004 Avondale Drive, Jackson, MS, 39216, before July 23.

Cost of the luncheon will be $3.75, and checks should be made payable to Belhaven College. Participants from outside the Jackson area who wish overnight accommodations at Belhaven may also request them through Mrs. Mills.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. and the program at 9:30 a.m. All interested Mississippians, men and women, are invited to attend.

OUTDOOR COOKING

As outdoor cooking continues to grow in popularity, so does equipment and the way foods are prepared.

The cost of equipment for barbecuing can range from a few dollars for a disposable unit to several hundred dollars for the very elaborate outfit. If you are a beginner barbecue chef, start with a smaller unit and become familiar with the techniques of outdoor cooking. Decide how much barbecuing will be done, how often the equipment will be used, and available storage for the equipment before investing in the more expensive equipment. Then, your smaller unit can be used as an auxiliary unit for taking on picnics or to the beach.

Whether you use an electric, gas or charcoal unit, the secret of successful barbecuing is the even distribution of heat. Some units have temperature controls that take the guesswork from grilling. When using the charcoal units, the amount of coals and how they are banked and distributed in the grill will determine the evenness of heat for cooking different foods.

Successful outdoor cooking means safety comes first. Always remember:

1. Keep small children and pets away from the cooking area.

2. Set up grill away from building walls, dry grass and flammable materials.

3. Never grill in a camper trailer or tent, using a charcoal grill.

4. Be sure to read and follow all instructions on use of grill.

5. Turn grill off when you are done cooking.

6. Do not leave grill unattended.

7. Use grill in a well-ventilated area.

7. When cooking is finished, smother the fire by lowering the hood and closing the damper or just place a bucket over the coals to smother the fire.

8. Use asbestos gloves to protect the hands.

9. Never heat canned food in unopened can.

10. Spray grill with a non-stick spray for ease of cleaning.

11. You will add to the life of your grill top if you wait to place it over the fire until cooking time. Also, save it by removing it right after use.

12. When cooking is completed, place wet towels or wet newspaper over grill top, or rub top and bottom of grill top over grass or sand to help make cleaning easier.

Beef, pork, lamb, poultry, seafoods and vegetables all can be barbecued on a grill top or placed on a rotisserie.

Since chicken is the all-American favorite, the marinades and sauces can vary and blend with the natural flavor of chicken. Chicken, like pork, should be cooked well-done. Chicken should be rubbed with a cooking oil for even browning and to hold the seasonings. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and a little paprika. Place halved broilers on grill with bony side down - the bones act as heat conductors and hurry the cooking. Broil over slow coals 25 minutes, turn, broil 20 minutes longer. Brush with your favorite barbecue sauce. Continue basting with sauce 10 to 15 minutes until the chicken is well-done.

If the chicken is marinated in a sauce, especially a sauce made with butter, sugars and tomatoes, the chicken will have a tendency to become too brown or burn before the chicken is done. These ingredients have a tendency to burn quickly, if the temperature becomes too hot. Have a very low temperature and allow about twice that time for cooking if chicken is marinated in a sauce.

When preparing chicken for a large crowd, and the grilling time needs to be shortened, bake the chicken in the oven until almost done, dip in sauce and continue cooking on grill top until done.

Auto Dealer Statistics Reported For Mississippi

Mississippi's auto dealer statistics for 1974 are reported by the Mississippi Automobile Dealers Association.

The average Mississippi new car dealer in 1974 employed 26 persons and paid an annual payroll of $156,000, the Association reported.

The figure is from the 1974 edition of the Franchised

New Car and Truck Dealer Statistics published by the National Automobile Dealers Association.

Other Mississippi highlights from the report include:

There were 900,000 automobiles on Mississippi roads in 1974 and 273,000 trucks and buses. The U.S. total was 133.7 million vehicles.

There were 400 franchised new truck dealers in Mississippi in 1974.

Mississippi's new car dealers represented 3.3 percent of the total retail establishments in the state.

Dealer sales of $770,000,000.00 in 1974 were 18.3 percent of the state total.

The $64,000,000.00 in dealer payroll was 13.1 percent of the state total, and the dealer workforce of 20 employees was 3.0 percent of the state total.

Saving Money By Saving Energy

Were your heating bills higher than your neighbor's last winter? Were your bills for your home very cold even when the heat was on? Was the house cold and hard to heat on a windy day? If you answered "yes" to any of these questions, you should start planning now to save money and energy next winter.

The best way to save money and energy next winter is to seal your home with the weatherstripping.

It is not a new property, but it is a new idea. You can save up to 30 percent of your fuel bill if you use the heating and insulating ideas in Save Energy, Save Money.

The booklet is published by the Community Services Administration (formerly the Office of Economic Opportunity) and is available free from Consumer Information, Dept. 52, Pueblo, Colorado 81006. The projects described are easy and may help you warmer for less next winter.

For instance, did you know that small holes around doors, windows and frames can let as much cold air into your house as a large open window? To keep your home warm, check around windows, door frames and chimneys. If you find cracks, you can fill them easily with caulking. But be sure to do this work before the temperature drops; caulking must be done in 45 degree plus weather.

Before you caulk, clean away any grease, dirt, or old caulking. The best caulking to use is the "latex" type. It's inexpensive and lasts five years or more. Smaller cracks can be filled with "core caulking". For larger cracks, apply caulk with a "caulking gun". Large, deep holes should be filled first with a "spack" material called "caulkon". All of these materials are available at hardware stores.

Also, check, on a windy day, for air coming through door and window seams. If you feel a leak, buy some "felt hair" weatherstripping. For windows, tack the stripping along the edge where the window meets the casing. Tack weatherstripping around the molding to keep out cold air around doors. The felt hair is inexpensive and really stops leaks.

Save Energy, Save Money also tells you how to insulate your attic, how to reflect heat from warm areas to cold, how to make your own storm windows, and more. All these low-cost, do-it-yourself projects save both energy and money. But don't put off winter planning.

Save Energy, Save Money (free) is one of almost 250 selected Federal publications listed in the current edition of the Consumer Information Index. Published quarterly by the Consumer Information Center of the General Services Administration, the Index is available free from Consumer Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81006, and at Federal Information Centers across the country.

VFW auxiliary receives awards

The Theodore S. Price Lachner VFW Auxiliary Post 3223 received six awards at the state convention in Tupelo, Miss., June 27, 28 and 29. Awards received included first place for outstanding work in the VFW national home, second place for outstanding work in community activities, second place for outstanding work in legislation, second place for outstanding work in the hospital and an award for outstanding work in safety.

The awards were accepted at the convention by post president Mrs. Lucille Boudreaux. Mrs. Boudreaux also received a magnolia pin from state president Virginia Sanders for carrying out the auxiliary programs of the past year.

Bargain In Education

A student at Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College pays only about 18 per cent of the cost of an instructional program.

"The remainder comes from local, state and federal tax dollars," says Robert L. Johnson, Gulf Coast executive assistant for education.

Commuter students at Jackson County, Perkinston and Jefferson Davis campuses pay only $300 a year to attend full-time. Room and board are extra at Perkinston, the college's boarding campus.

"Fees are even less for persons enrolled in evening and adult (continuing) education programs," Johnson said.

He said "this bargain in education is available at a time when families are caught in the upward spiraling of the cost of living."

Financial aid workshop set at Jackson State

JACKSON STATE — A workshop on financial aid will be held at Jackson State University Saturday, July 19, to provide information and advice in completing application materials for financial aid.

Cosponsored by the Admissions and Records Office and the Student Financial Aid Office, the workshop is designed to inform prospective students and their parents of the availability of various types of aid and to assist them in applying for them.

The workshop will be held on the first floor of the Administration Tower from 9 a.m. to noon. There will be no fee for the workshop and all interested students and parents are invited to attend.

It is said that Gazette, as a name for a newspaper comes from 16th century Venice, when the government circulars were read aloud to the citizens for a fee of one small coin called a gazzetta.

Vacations are for people leave pets at home

Summer vacation time is here, and although vacations are fun for most of the family, there's one member who does not enjoy them - the family pet.

Dog and cat owners often assume that because they enjoy seeing new places, their dogs and cats do too, said Specialist Ross Shelton, Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service. If they could talk, the animals would tell owners differently. New sights, sounds, smells and surroundings spell danger to animals, and a journey to an unfamiliar spot is an unsettling and unhappy experience.

It is a particularly poor idea to take your cat on vacation, said Shelton. A dog, if it is trained, will at least return when it's called. Cats are not inclined to obey their owners, and most are not leash trained. All too often a cat breaks away from its owner sometime during a vacation and vanishes forever.

It is far better for a vacationing family to leave its pets at home and have a neighbor care for them, said Shelton. The second best alternative is to place pets in a boarding kennel. Only as a last resort should the pets be taken along.

However, if you do take pets along on your vacation, here are some tips to make their life - and your vacation - less troublesome:

- Don't allow pets to stick their heads out of the windows of moving cars. Their eyes can be injured by gravel or bugs, or become irritated when the wind dries them.

- On hot days, offer an animal chilled ice. This provides it with moisture while not loading its stomach with liquid.

- Check with a veterinarian about rabies inoculations and health certificates required to enter other states or countries.

- Buy motion sickness medicine for the pet.

- Feed the animal in the evenings after stopping for the night, preferably at the normal feeding time. Try not to change the pet's diet.

- Never tie a dog on a leash in a car; he may jump out a window and hang himself.

- Take along a favorite toy or bone to prevent boredom.

- Crates should be made of wire to allow proper ventilation and be large enough for the pets to stand and turn. Avoid hauling animals in a car trunk, and if it is necessary, make sure the trunk is partially open to prevent asphyxiation, heatstroke, or carbon monoxide poisoning.

- Temperature rises quickly in a locked car. Don't leave an animal in a car without proper ventilation.

- Exercise and water the animal frequently.

The first time in history-- backwaters satellite-mapped

MISSISSIPPI STATE - For the first time in history a satellite was used to determine backwater problems. The lower Mississippi Delta Flood Study was satellite-mapped on April 16. It was transferred from Goddard Space Center in Maryland to the National Space Technology Laboratories (NSTL) at Bay St. Louis for analysis. Thirty-nine hours later, on April 18, it was in the Governor's Office of Technology.

The value of this rapid mapping offers documentary proof that Mississippi people were in trouble and also showed where assistance was needed.

"The maps will be extremely useful in finding future solutions to the backwater problems," said Bob Chapin, coordinator of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service Land Use Center. "Helping find the solutions are extension agents who are assisting with ground truthing," he continued.

More than two million acres along the Mississippi River went under water this year. There were 458,000 acres flooded in the four South Delta counties as shown by the satellite map.

An estimated 600 families in Mississippi were forced to leave their homes and move to higher ground. Some homes were protected from high waters by ring levees, Chapin said, but many were not and these people suffered most.

Chapin said that individual houses can be protected in two major ways. Houses can be elevated on mounds of earth, or on wood, concrete, or steel piling. This system works well when expected flood waters are under eight feet.

When flood waters can exceed eight feet, a ring levee is best. However, one problem is erosion from wave action caused by the wind blowing over long stretches of open water. Rocks or concrete bags, called rip rap, can be placed evenly across the water side of the levee to stop this washing action.

Another problem with a ring levee is sand boils, where water seeps under the levee. These areas can be circled with sand bags to a height equal to the height of the water on the other side of the levee.

Families located in the flood plains of Mississippi need financial assistance," Chapin urged. "If all 600 homes in the flooded area were completely rebuilt and flood-proofed, it would cost about $16 million."

Chapin said that few people realize the April 13 flood level of 49.7 feet was only eight feet below the disastrous 1927 flood level which reached 58.4 feet on the Vicksburg gauge. The canal gauge flood stage of 43 feet indicated the river was at most seven feet over flood stage this year.

Work on canal levees needs to be finished and big pumps installed to clear water off this land as soon as possible," Chapin added. "With the water cleared, farmers can get their crops planted and produce the needed food and fiber."

Routine clean-up highlights appeal

"Little things mean a lot," they say. Like most sayings, this expression has some basis in fact. Putting your home up for sale is an example.

Many homeowners don't even think about it, but such routine things as cleaning up the yard or tidying up closets are well-known devices that may help sell a home. Clean windows are another. Because a variety of window styles and sizes break up what would otherwise be dull expanses of wall area, attention is focused on them. Before showing the house to prospective buyers, make sure the windows have been washed.

The role good windows play in energy conservation is an important point a homeowner can stress when selling his house. A home's ability to keep energy costs down is growing in importance, not for the potential buyer alone, but for the mortgage lender as well.

Since the price for heating and cooling a poorly-insulated home can be as much as double the cost of a well-insulated one, some banks are taking a close look at these figures before approving any home loans. As sharply higher costs for fuel oil, gas and electricity draw attention to the economics of home heating, the emphasis grows on adding insulation to reduce heat loss through walls, ceilings and floors.

A vital part of good insulation comes from choosing good windows. The best protection against wasteful heat loss in window areas comes from precision-made wood windows, insulating glass and factory-applied weatherstripping. Wood, a natural insulator, is used in the frame and sash of quality-built units. Insulating glass - two panes of glass with an insulating air space between - is another component that works to cut down on heat loss through the glass. And factory-applied weatherstripping, which assures snug closure, reduces heat robbing air infiltration.

Renovation restores life to old homes

Couples enchanted by 200 year old houses with such quaint touches as large fireplaces and narrow stairways often confuse renovation with restoration. Sometimes they buy these homes expecting to rediscover the essence of what life was like in the days prior to the Revolutionary War.

To accurately experience the lifestyle of a homeowner in Colonial times, however, would require restoration, which means to return a home to as close to its original condition as possible. This would include living with such day-to-day hardships as no plumbing, no central heating or air conditioning, and ill-fitting, drafty, poorly glazed windows.

Renovation on the other hand, restores life and vigor to a house by bringing it up to date with plumbing, central heating and the myriad amenities that today's homeowner regards as necessities. At the same time, the original architectural integrity of the home is maintained.

Restoration is great if the building is to be used as a museum. On the other hand, renovation raises the standard of living and improves the quality of life for the building's occupants.

Take windows, for instance. Bay windows are as traditional to Colonial architecture as a pintlock over the fireplace is to an early-American designed living room. One way to get an authentically styled window with up-to-date comfort and convenience is to install a modern angle-bay with the traditional look.

Perma-Shield Narroline angle-bay windows manufactured by Andersen Corporation link Colonial charm with the convenience of low maintenance vinyl. These double-hung units, available as 30 or 45 degree angle-bays, are pre-assembled and delivered ready for installation.

The preservative treated wood core frame is clad in long-life, low-maintenance rigid vinyl. The wood sash is protected by a four-step polyurea finish. Factory-applied weatherstripping assures snug closure against heat robbing air infiltration. When glazed with double-pane insulating glass, heat loss through glass areas is reduced and the shore of putting up and taking down storm sash is ended.

Another traditional touch without the bother comes from divided light grilles of rigid vinyl, which can also be purchased as an option with Narroline angle-bay windows. The grilles snap in or out to make the job of washing the glass easier.

Perma-Shield Narroline angle-bay windows are available at building supply stores and lumber dealers.

Wabash Cannonball

NASHVILLE, TENN. — King of Country Music, Roy Acuff, Mrs. Acuff, and the Smokey Mountain Boys take the first ride on Opryland's new thriller roller coaster, the WABASH CANNONBALL, that opened this week at the music theme park in Nashville. Acuff, who recorded the song "Wabash Cannonball" in 1934, said that he had never ridden that train and wanted the first ride on the park's "Cannonball." The new 70 ft. high super thriller amusement ride, one of only four in the country, makes two giant loops as it speeds down a 1200 ft. track at speeds up to 50 miles per hour.

Building Program About Two-thirds Complete

A $9.3 million building program at Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College is about two-thirds complete, Harold Wesson said Tuesday.

Wesson, Gulf Coast executive assistant for administration, said nearly $5.5 million has been spent at the college's three campuses under the first phase of a ten-year building program begun in 1972.

The money was divided among the campuses according to enrollment and need," Wesson said. Perkins Campus at Perkinston was allocated $1.6 million; and Jackson County Campus, Gautier, and Jefferson-Davis Campus, Gulfport, each received $3.7 million.

At Perkins $1.4 million has been used for a new vocational-technical complex; additions to and renovations of older buildings; tennis courts and parking.

A fine arts building at Jefferson Davis has been completed. Under construction are a vocational-technical building; additions to the library, cafeteria and classroom buildings; central utilities; drainage, and roof repairs.

Finished at Jackson County Campus are a library-classroom building; additions to the science building and central utilities. Work is in progress on a fine arts building. A vocational technical building will be constructed soon. Some remodeling of existing structures and a parking lot also are planned. Wesson said the new facilities "will enable Gulf Coast to better serve the educational needs of the college community of Stone, Harrison, George and Jackson counties."

Home Freezing Of Fruits And Vegetables

If you get a good harvest from your garden this summer, you might want to freeze some of it, so your favorite fruits and vegetables can be "in season" year round. Freezing is quick and easy. It keeps the natural color, fresh flavor, and nutritive values of most fruits and vegetables. And the U. S. Department of Agriculture has a booklet with tips on choosing ingredients and equipment; preparation, packaging, freezing and suggestions for use. For a copy of Home Freezing of Fruits and Vegetables send 65 cents to Consumer Information, Dept. 87, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Where can you find Abraham Lincoln talking to Shirley Temple or Winston Churchill? On the cover of the new 1976 telephone directory which was designed especially to honor the bicentennial celebration of our country as well as the 100th birthday of the invention of the telephone. The cover features 32 American heroes and mythical figures, each using a different phone, from Alexander Graham Bell's liquid transmitter with typed word receiver to George Washington's visual phone of the future. A complete identification of each of the characters and a description of the phone they're using is being printed in the Call-Books pages of each directory. In Mississippi, this cover is to appear on all directories delivered between mid-1975 and mid-1976. Customers here in Bay St. Louis can expect to receive directories with this cover around the latter part of August.

Philadelphia, Mississippi, is the site for two special events this week and next. The Choctaw Indian Fair, July 16-19, features authentic tribal dances, softball games, and other historical and cultural performances and exhibits. The Natchez County Fair, a favorite event of all Mississippians, is scheduled for July 19-23. There'll be political speakers, top entertainers and radio stars, horse races, and exhibits. Plan to join in the fun at Philadelphia.

Cattle Industry To Tour Mississippi

The American National Cattlemen's Association will conduct a five-day industry Action Tour in Mississippi on July 25-29 and August 1. The delegation of cattlemen, led by ANCA President Gordon Van Vleck, will examine the industry's problems in a series of nine meetings to be held throughout the state. The tour will begin in Senatobia at the CMR Picnic Sale Barn (10:00 am), and Pontotoc at the Branch Experiment Station (8:30 am), on July 25. The group will continue on to Philadelphia at the East Mississippi Farmers Livestock Market (10:00 am), and Winona, on George Harris Circle H Ranch (6:30 pm), on the 26th.

On the 28th the tour will be in Collins, at the Rogers Bar RR Ranch (10:00 am), and in Poplarville, at the Pearl River Junior College (6:30 pm). Next the cattlemen will meet in Meadville, at the Middle Fork Country Club (10:00 am), and in Raymond, at the Brown Loam Experiment Station (6:30 pm), on the 31st. The tour will end in Flora (10:00 am), on August 1.

Van Vleck will meet personally with Mississippi cattlemen in order to learn their feelings on current industry issues. He will also relate the actions ANCA is taking to deal with current problems. Accompanying Van Vleck will be Jerry Lyon, President of the Mississippi Cattlemen's Association.

The ANCA President will discuss all issues of importance to Mississippi cattlemen, with emphasis on legislation currently under consideration by Congress. Army Corps of Engineers proposals for the expansion of authority to regulate dredged and fill material in all waters of the United States will be a major topic, according to Van Vleck. "The proposed regulations are so incredibly broad that they would permit Federal land use control at the most local level. They could even extend to the farmer or rancher who wants to enlarge his stock pond, and every sort of earth-moving conservation practice could be affected," the ANCA President said.

Foster Children Week

Emphasis was placed on Foster Care for children recently, when Governor William L. Waller proclaimed State Action for Foster Children Week.

"The need for foster homes is increasing every year," said State Welfare Commissioner Max M. Cole. The State Welfare Department licenses over 700 foster homes in Mississippi serving approximately 1600 children.

Short term foster care happens for a variety of reasons," Commissioner Cole commented. "Children are placed in foster care by the courts because they have been neglected or abused, or the family may find themselves in a situation due to illness or death that forces them to give up a child for a short time."

Sometimes, short term foster care becomes long term care, lasting for several years. "In all instances, the goal of the department is to reunite the child with his natural parents if at all possible."

"We work closely with youth court judges in court ordered placements, providing the social work necessary to make the child's and his family's adjustment as easy as possible," Commissioner Cole said.

"Our foster parents are the unsung heroes of foster care. They give the child a stable home environment during a crisis period in their lives," Commissioner Cole stated.

For more information concerning foster care, foster parents and foster children, contact the county welfare office in your area.
